

Key Stage 4 Results – “Best Ever Achieved By Park Hall Students”

The students, staff and local community are delighted with their performance in 2009’s Key Stage 4 results – which show a doubling of performance over the last two years moving from 39 in 2007 to 80% in 2009. Although some results are unconfirmed at present, the percentage of students achieving the nationally expected 5 A*-C grades has increased by over 20 % from 60% in 2008 to 82% in 2009. The percentage of students who achieved 5 A*-C with English and Maths has also increased by over 50%. In 2008, this measure was 22% and has increased by 12% to 34% in 2009. In 2009, 99% of students achieved at least one A*-G grade, and 95% achieved 5 A*-G grades. Headteacher - Mrs Ann Green, together with Principal Designate - Mr Tony Morrison, commented that, “These are the best ever Key Stage 4 Results achieved at the school. It is a delight to receive more good news after our successful OFSTED inspection in April. The students, staff, parents and Governors should be very proud of all the skill, hard work and effort that has been dedicated to gaining these improvements – they exemplify how two schools working in close partnership can bring huge benefits to the students. The improvements are a fantastic foundation for the future - for the students, the new Park Hall Academy and our continued partnership with Arden. We think they show that Park Hall can once again be truly called a good school.”

There were several outstanding performances by individual students including Jonathan Adams, Jessica Bird, Tameshea Bish Castro, Grace Jenkins, Jenny Mach, and Cydney Reddington with at least 10 A*-C grade passes. Additionally, Cydney gained 9, Jess 8 and Grace obtained 7 A or A* grades.

Ann Green and Tony Morrison added that, “Although the statistical analysis of this year’s examination results are at a very rough stage, in value added terms (i.e. when comparing the final results with students’ previous learning), Year 11 have done even better than those in previous years – which is fantastic and builds well on the huge improvements we saw in our A Level results which were released last week. The students, staff and parents should be pleased with this achievement and we are delighted.”
